Preview: This week's Arena Football Game of the Week features two teams battling to correct the course of their seasons. The Billings Outlaws (2-2) started hot but have dropped two consecutive games by large margins. Head Coach Cedric Walker is looking to right the ship for the Outlaws this week as they play host to the Salina Liberty (1-4). Salina sputtered out of the gate as they searched for an answer at quarterback, but Head Coach Heron O'Neal appears to have found one in newly signed veteran Rakeem Cato and has the Liberty looking to claw their way back into the playoff picture.

Salina, currently tied for 6th place with Oregon and Washington, is coming off its first win of the year last Saturday, beating the Lightning 47-32. Cato went 8-15 for 92 yards with five TD passes. RB Tracy Brooks rushed for 52 yards in 16 attempts, scoring twice. WR Malik Honeycutt had four receptions for 59 yards and three TDs, while WR Edward Smith, Jr. had three for 33 yards and two TDs. Defensively, DB DeWayne Autrey led the team with six tackles, followed by DE Travis Taylor with four. Lineman Toree Boyd added two sacks. RB Henry Kellogg leads the league with six sacks on the year.

Billings is coming off its second straight loss to Albany, this time by a 39-7 score at home. The Outlaws were outscored 101-31 in their last two games against the Firebirds and are currently in a tie for fourth place with Nashville. Last week, Billings QB Braden Wingle went 13-20 for 89 yards and one TD. WR Jevin Frett, who leads the league with 78.0 average yards receiving per game, had four receptions for 46 yards. Teammate WR Alexia Rosario is tied for first, averaging 2.0 TDs per game. On the defensive side of the ball, DB Cedric Thomas had three tackles against Albany, as did LB Khalib Slaughter, who also added a sack.
